Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Patchy rain over Northern Ireland, southern Scotland and northern England will become heavier through the afternoon with snow on Scottish hills, but it will be brighter across northern Scotland. Elsewhere, generally fine and dry with warm sunshine, especially across southeast England.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Cloudier than of late across southern parts on Monday with some patchy drizzle possible at first. Elsewhere, fine and dry with scattered cloud and some sunny periods. Remaining settled into Tuesday with variable amounts of cloud and some lengthy periods of sunshine with light winds. However, rather breezy in the northwest with patchy drizzle at times.
