Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sleet or snow showers will affect many eastern parts of the U.K, especially near to North Sea coasts where some could be rather heavy. Wintry showers are also expected to move into northern Scotland. Most other areas will be fine, although the far southwest could see a few showers.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Fine, bright but still cold for many areas on Monday, with wintry showers in the north, heavy over northern Scotland. Sleet and snow showers are likely to become more widespread on Tuesday but mainly in the north and east, and continuing very cold generally.
