Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloud and a little light rain or showers across some southern and central areas will clear southwards during the morning, all areas then having a fresher feeling day with a good deal of sunshine. Decreasing winds and clearing skies will lead to a chillier evening than of late.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Much of the UK staying dry with sunny periods by day then broken cloud overnight allowing it to become quite chilly with a few mist and fog patches. Some northern areas will become more cloudy however with a little rain or drizzle returning to the west and far north of Scotland.
