++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be another windy and cloudy day, with further outbreaks of rain in places, especially across northern and western hills. Meanwhile, there will be some brighter spells across the far northeast of Scotland, with a scattering of showers. It will be an exceptionally mild day for November, and with a strong south-westerly wind.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

It will be mild and often windy again on Wednesday and Thursday, with further outbreaks of rain at times, but also some bright or sunny interludes. There will be the risk of gales or severe gales across the far north and west on Thursday.
