Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Some early mist or fog is likely, mainly in central and eastern areas, but once this clears many places should have a fine day with sunny intervals. A band of showers is expected to move eastwards across northern and central parts of the UK during the day.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Some eastern parts of the UK may start largely dry on Friday, but cloud and rain will spread to most areas during the day. Northwestern parts should become brighter with showers in the afternoon. On Saturday, rain will clear gradually southeastwards across England, with sunshine and scattered, sometimes heavy, showers elsewhere.
