Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
England and Wales will be dry for much of the day with some sunshine although cloud will increase in the afternoon, with showers spreading southwards during the evening. Temperatures rising to a little above normal generally, though becoming locally warm in the south. Scotland and Northern Ireland will start mostly dry and bright although thickening cloud will bring rain into western parts in the morning and remaining areas during the afternoon. Temperatures mostly near normal.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

England and Wales mainly dry with some sunshine, Scotland and Northern Ireland cloudier, cooler and breezy with showers or perhaps longer spells of rain.
