++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
An area of cloud and generally light rain will be lingering across central parts of England and Wales through the day. Further south will see dry and bright conditions but low cloud around coastal areas bordering the Bristol Channel. A drier and brighter day in the north with sunny spells, just the odd shower across Scotland.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
A large part of the UK will see a dry day with sunny spells on Sunday. Rain will be pushing into the north through the day and this will gradually spread into northern England and Northern Ireland on Monday. Becoming brighter in the north.
