Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a brighter day on Monday with sunny spells, but still with some scattered showers. The showers will be heavy and wintry at times, especially in the north. There will still be a brisk wind blowing, which will increase to strong to gale force in western Scotland.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

On Tuesday, wet and very windy for a time with heavy rain sweeping east across most areas, followed by sunshine and squally showers. Wednesday will become mainly dry for many parts during the afternoon after a very showery morning for many western areas.
