++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Many places will start dry with some sunshine. However, showers, already across some northern and western areas will develop widely by afternoon, some heavy with hail and thunder, and may be accompanied by gusty winds in the south. It will feel rather chilly, with temperatures plummeting in heavy showers.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

It will remain very unsettled with clear or sunny spells and showers. Some of the showers by day especially will be heavy with hail and thunder, and there is a risk of some longer spells of rain for southeast England for a time on Sunday. It will remain rather cool.
