++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A band of rain will be moving steadily southwards across northern parts of England, Wales and into the Midlands during the day. The rain will be heavy at times, particularly over higher ground. Meanwhile, it will be cloudy to the south, with patchy drizzle in places. Much brighter across Scotland and Northern Ireland with blustery showers.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

It will be a fine start for many on Thursday, before storm 'Abigail' approaches from the Atlantic. This will bring gales or severe gales to northern and western parts of the UK during Thursday. Staying cool with blustery showers for Friday.
