Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloud and rain in eastern Scotland and northeast England will quickly clear during the morning, then most areas will be dry with sunny spells and scattered cloud, and with just a few showers. Showers most likely in western areas. Feeling pleasant, perhaps locally warm in sheltered parts with light winds.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Dry at first in all areas, but outbreaks of heavy rain and strong to gale force southwesterly winds will spread across Northern Ireland, Scotland and Northwest England on Thursday and Friday, Southern areas will remain dry with sunny spells, and feeling pleasantly warm in the more sheltered south and east.
