Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain in the southwest, likely spreading across the south during the day, perhaps heavy at times. Dry and fine elsewhere with spells of sunshine after a chilly start, but some patchy low cloud and fog to clear central parts. Mostly light winds, but breezier in the southwest where feeling cool in the rain.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Dry and bright towards the north and east on Wednesday after a chilly start. Cloudier in the west with rain or drizzle which will then spread east during Thursday. The rain turning heavy and persistent at times and accompanied by strengthening winds.
