Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Northern Scotland will be cloudy with some light rain. Elsewhere, areas of low cloud, mist and fog are expected initially, but should clear fairly quickly from most parts to leave a warm, dry day with light winds and sunny spells, sunniest in the south. Probably most cloudy over northwestern parts.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Largely dry with sunny spells and light winds on both days, generally sunniest in the southwest. However, northern Scotland will be more cloudy with rain on Sunday, and a band of cloud will push southwards on Monday bringing some showery outbreaks elsewhere. Windy and cooler in the east on Monday.
