++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Cloudy throughout, outbreaks of mostly light rain or drizzle spreading eastwards to affect most parts. There will be hill fog in the west too, but after a cold start in the north, it will become mild everywhere. Winds strengthening, with heavy rain and gales in the west later.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Rain, locally heavy at first on Wednesday, will soon clear as sunshine and blustery showers follow from the west. Thursday sees thick cloud, heavy rain and gales spreading to the south, rain followed by bright spells and blustery showers in the north.
