Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

Rain in the south will spread slowly northwards across England and Wales through the day, heaviest and most persistent for some western areas. There will be hill fog and some coastal mist in some southern areas too. Mostly dry across Scotland and Northern Ireland until later. Feeling increasingly warm and humid.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Very warm and mostly sunny in England and Wales on Thursday, but cooler with some heavy rain in northwestern areas. Becoming fresher on Friday with a mixture of sunshine and showers, though still warm in some eastern areas. Windy in the north.
