Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Locally heavy rain across northern parts of the United Kingdom will gradually become confined to northern Scotland as the day goes on. Further south scattered showers will gradually die away to allow increasing amounts of sunshine to develop, and parts of southern England will remain dry throughout. It will be windy.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

On Thursday northern parts of the United Kingdom will be wet and windy with rain for much of the time whereas southern areas will be dry and bright with some sunshine. Most places will have some rain on Friday, although parts of southern England will remain dry.
