++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Scotland, cloudy with snow at times, some persistent and heavy with drifting over high ground in strong winds. However, rain or sleet is expected around windward northern and eastern coasts. Elsewhere, a grey, misty start with patchy fog, this gradually lifting, but most places remaining cloudy and milder with rain or drizzle, this heavy later in the south.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Remaining very unsettled and at times windy with further rain or showers. Some of these will be heavy, and in the north there will be further snow at times, especially over high ground. A few bright intervals are likely in places.
