++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Northern Ireland, northern and western Scotland will be cloudy with outbreaks of rain, these persistent and at times heavy. Elsewhere, there will be some sunshine, but also a scattering of showers, and some of these, especially in the south and southwest may be heavy. It will be much cooler than today across England and Wales.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

There will be further rain across northwestern areas during Tuesday, but this should die out during Wednesday. Elsewhere, it will be rather changeable with sunny spells, but also further showers, a few of these heavy and perhaps thundery. It will feel cool and fresh.
