++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
There will be blustery showers mainly over northern and western parts, these are likely to be heavy, and perhaps also thundery. There may also be some more persistent, occasionally heavy rain across the far southeast which slowly clears to the east. Central parts of the UK will stay driest and brightest. It will be cooler than Sunday.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
There will be further blustery showers on Tuesday. Again, these showers are likely to be heavy, and could turn thundery and contain hail. The showers continue on Wednesday, although they gradually die out from the northwest. Staying cooler than in recent days.
