++ Valid for broadcast at 0858

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom until dawn tomorrow:
It will be mainly cloudy with a mix of bright spells and some light rain in places. The bright spells will mainly be in the east, whereas western parts are more likely to catch the rain and drizzle at times. Northern Scotland however will be quite windy with more persistent rain today. Tonight will be milder and mainly frost free.

Outlook for Sunday and Monday:
Sunday and Monday look mainly bright and breezy in the north and east, but it will be rather cloudy across southern England, Wales and Northern Ireland. A few bright spells are possible at times, especially in eastern parts of England.
