Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sunday will see prolonged sunshine for much of England and Wales and it will turn very warm in places. However, there will be outbreaks of rain moving south across the Northern Ireland and Scotland through the day, where it will be colder. Skies will also cloud over later in many western parts.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
There will be sunshine and showers on Monday and it will feel noticeably colder. The showers will be most frequent in the north and west. It will be wet and windy across northern parts on Tuesday, but fine and dry with light winds and sunny spells further south.
