++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a wet and windy day for all, with the heaviest rain in northern and western parts. Thick cloud will move east across the UK, with fog forming over the hills. It will brighten up from the west later, with blustery showers in the far northwest.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:
There will be gales in the north on Monday with blustery showers. Drier further south with some bright spells, but still windy. Rain may move into southern counties for a time later. Tuesday will be drier, brighter and less windy on the whole, but rain will reach Scotland later.
