Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
It will be a cloudy, wet start across England and Wales, heavy rain and gale force winds affecting many areas. This rain will push east across most other areas during the day, sunshine and scattered showers following from the west. Scotland will remain quite stormy with rain or heavy showers, and the risk of severe gales in the northeast. Feeling cold in the wind and rain.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

There will be sunshine and scattered showers during Tuesday and Wednesday, although starting cloudy with rain in southeast England at first. Showers will mostly affect the north and northwest, later the northeast. Feeling cold.
