Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
An unsettled day with a good deal of cloud across central and eastern areas with only a few brighter spells. The best of the sunshine is likely in the west. There'll be showers too, some heavy with hail and thunder, and merging at times to give longer spells of rain especially at first, and more generally across northern England and southern Scotland. Temperatures near normal but cool in rain.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Further showers, these heavy at times and merging to give longer spells of rain in places. Some bright or sunny spells as well. Temperatures near or a little below normal.
