Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A cold start across the whole of the UK with a widespread frost and localised icy patches, then a mainly dry day with sunny spells and further wintry showers affecting western and eastern coasts. Mainly dry with some sunny spells elsewhere. A band of more persistent rain, sleet and snow then moves into northern Scotland later.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

Windy with a band of sleet and snow moving southwards on Tuesday and gradually weakening. Wintry showers in the east and dry with sunny spells elsewhere. Mostly dry on Wednesday with further wintry showers in the north and east. Widespread overnight frosts.
