Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:

A mixed day with some showers around, but there will also be plenty of dry periods and some sunny spells. The best of the weather is expected in the east, with the most frequent and sometimes heavy and thundery showers in the north and west. Feeling rather cold with fresh to strong west or northwesterly winds and some gales.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Most places will start off fine on Saturday, but further cloudy, wet and windy weather will spread eastwards across all parts during the day. Sunday will remain mostly cloudy with further rain and some strong winds. Some snow over northern hills.
