Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Heavy rain will continue over much of Scotland, especially eastern parts. This could lead to further surface flooding. The rain should become lighter as the day progresses. Elsewhere, most will see a mixture of sunshine and showers. Some showers will be heavy and thundery with hail, especially across southern parts of England and Wales. Feeling cool with a noticeable breeze.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

The unsettled theme continues, with further showers. Again, some showers heavy and thundery. Persistent rain still continuing across the far northeast of Scotland. Becoming drier from the west on Tuesday with most parts seeing some sunshine. Breezy and cool throughout.
