Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Sunny spells and wintry showers are likely, the showers sometimes merging into longer periods of sleet or snow, with temporary accumulations possible even to low levels. Windy conditions will result in a risk of blizzards over higher ground in the north and east.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

It will remain cold and generally unsettled with sunshine and wintry showers, and from time to time longer spells of rain, sleet or snow in places. Over higher ground, particularly in the north, there may be accumulations of snow at times. It will be windy in the west and north, perhaps with gales at times, particularly Monday.
