Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1945 on Tuesday 31 August 2004

** Valid for Broadcast at 2159 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Early mist and fog patches will clear to most areas with a dry day.
It'll be sunny at first, but with cloud increasing especially in the north and west. Outbreaks of rain are likely to spread to parts of Northern Ireland and western Scotland later. Temperatures near or a little above normal, locally warm in sunnier areas in the afternoon.
Overnight, rain will spread across the rest of Scotland, northwest England, Wales and southwest England, other areas staying dry.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Still changeable but with most of the rain in the north and west,
many central and eastern parts staying dry.
