Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1945 on Saturday 3 July 2004

 Valid for Broadcast at 2159 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Rain is likely for a time in the far south, otherwise another day of sunshine and showers, although many areas of England and Wales will start off dry with sunny spells. The showers and rain will be heavy and thundery at times, also slow-moving, especially across southeast Scotland and northeast England. Mainly light winds, helping to make it feel a little warmer, with temperatures closer to normal.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Monday and Tuesday: Sunny spells and showers on Monday, showers heaviest and most frequent in the north. Tuesday southern areas mostly dry with sunny spells, scattered showers in the north.
Temperatures near normal.
