++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Most places will see sunny spells and showers, with showers heaviest and most frequent across eastern England. Much of Scotland and Northern Ireland will be dry with some sunshine, and it will be hot and humid again in southeast England. However, cloud will thicken later across western parts of the UK, with outbreaks of rain spreading from the west.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Rain will turn more persistent on Thursday and spread eastwards across most of the country, turning particularly heavy across southern Britain. It will be much drier, brighter and fresher on Friday though, with a light northwesterly breeze and cooler temperatures.
