++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Northwestern parts of Scotland will have a largely cloudy day with outbreaks of rain, and low cloud, mist or fog is likely to affect the North Sea coasts of England at times. Elsewhere, early mist and fog patches will clear and it will be a warm and mainly dry day with some bright or sunny periods.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

It will be dry and fine on both Thursday and Friday with plenty of extended sunny periods. It will remain warm too, especially in central and southern areas, although coastal parts are likely to stay cooler as sea breezes develop.
