

FPUK86 EGRR 291745
Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1945 on Saturday 29 April 2006

** Valid for Broadcast at 2159 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Some showers are possible initially across parts of southern England.
However, these should quickly clear to give most parts a dry, bright morning with some sunshine, especially in eastern areas. Many places should also stay dry through the afternoon but a scattering of showers will develop over England and Wales. Also, outbreaks of rain will reach Northern Ireland during the early afternoon, the rain reaching some other western districts by early evening. With light winds it should feel pleasant in the sunshine.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Rain at first on Monday with drier, brighter conditions following.
Wet, windy weather affecting many places on Tuesday.
