Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Across most the UK it will be an icy start with snow in places, and it will stay cold but sunny through most of the day. However across Northern Ireland and Scotland it will be increasingly grey and wet. The wet weather will affect all parts of the UK by Thursday morning.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

It will brighten up in the northwest on Thursday but with frequent heavy, wintry showers and strong winds. Elsewhere it will stay cloudy and wet through the day, but milder. Friday will be brighter, but colder again with further heavy showers in the north.
