Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a rather cloudy and breezy day across many northern and western areas with outbreaks of rain, some of which are likely to be heavy. However, many southern and eastern parts will stay dry with some warm spells of sunshine and brighter, showery weather should also develop across Northern Ireland later.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:
Rain should clear from eastern areas fairly readily on Tuesday to leave a day of sunshine and showers. Wednesday will begin fine but chilly, and cloud will gradually arrive from the west introducing the next spell of wet and windy weather later on.
