Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
After a fairly cloudy, in places misty start with hill fog, cloud will tend to break during the morning with scattered showers developing. The showers will be heavy at times during the afternoon, with thunder possible across northern and eastern parts of the UK, though not everywhere will see a shower.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Heavy rain across some eastern parts on Wednesday, brighter with showers further west. Becoming drier and brighter from the south on Thursday, though rain will be slow to clear parts of Scotland. More wet weather will spread northeastwards on Friday.
