Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
All parts will have a mixture of sunshine and showers on Thursday. The showers could be heavy and thundery in places, especially across Northern Ireland where some more prolonged periods of rain are expected. It should become drier and brighter across England and Wales later in the afternoon and evening.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:
The north and east will have sunshine and showers on Friday. Rain will spread into the southwest later in the morning, where it will also become quite breezy. All parts will then have an unsettled and sometimes windy weekend with further showers or longer spells of rain.
