Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
A generally dry, very cold and cloudy day. There will be a widespread frost and freezing fog patches at first, these lingering all day in some areas. In northeast Scotland, some sunny spells, perhaps with the odd brighter spell developing elsewhere. Despite generally light winds, feeling raw under cloud and fog.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Mostly cloudy across England and Wales on Friday, some sunshine in eastern Scotland. Cloud and rain spreading to the northwest. On Saturday, areas of cloud and rain, especially in the north, some sunshine for sheltered eastern areas. Near normal temperatures in the north, still below in the south.
