Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Locally heavy rain and strong winds will quickly clear the southwest on Monday morning, leaving a mainly dry but rather cloudy day across the UK. There will be some bright or sunny spells, although showers will persist in the west and northwest, where it will also be windy. A milder feeling day for most.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

It will be a generally mild and cloudy day on Tuesday across the UK, but there will be patchy rain for western parts. A band of heavy, showery rain and strong winds clears east during Wednesday with sunshine and blustery showers following for western parts later.
