Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be another fine and dry day tomorrow once any mist and fog patches clear away. There will be plenty of warm sunny spells and only light winds. However, it will probably be cloudier in the far northwest of Scotland with a little light rain possible at times here.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

It will remain similar through Wednesday and Thursday with mainly fine and dry conditions. However, it will be quite cloudy at times, with the best of the sunshine most likely across western parts. Feeling warm in the sunshine, however it will still be locally chilly overnight with some fog patches.
