Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Mostly cloudy at first, with a little rain at times over some northern and western areas. This rain will die out and rather more bright or sunny intervals will develop, with the best of the sunshine likely in eastern coastal areas. A few isolated but heavy showers are likely later in the southwest.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Unsettled and often cloudy over central and southern parts, with showers and probably also some longer outbreaks of rain. More generally dry in the north with rather more sunshine. Generally on the cool side and often with a brisk northeasterly wind.
