Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Many parts will start Tuesday cloudy with outbreaks of rain, which will be heaviest and most persistent across Northern Ireland, Northwest England and Southwest Scotland. The southeast of England should start dry, with dry and brighter weather also extending across Wales and the Midlands.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

The north of England, Northern Ireland and Scotland will be cloudy and breezy on Wednesday with rain. Further south it should be drier and brighter but with some patchy rain in the west. Thursday will become brighter in the north but also windy with heavy showers. Occasional rain in the south will gradually clear.
