Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
After a chilly start, Monday will be dry with some prolonged sunny spells, and feeling warm by the afternoon in the south of the UK. However, it will feel a little cooler on northern and eastern coasts of Scotland and northeast England with cloud persistent at times here.

Outlook for Tuesday and Wednesday:

For Tuesday, rather cloudy across eastern parts of England and Scotland with temperatures several degrees down on Monday's values. However, most places will be dry with the best of the sunny spells in the west. Rather cloudy at times on Wednesday with bright or sunny spells, but it will be dry.
