Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be mostly dry and fine in the far northwest of the UK but probably a little cloudier than today. Outbreaks of rain are likely in the morning elsewhere, occasionally heavy, but there is a greater chance of sunny spells in the afternoon. There will be a few showers around too though, some of which could be thundery.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:

A band of rain will move northeastwards across the UK during Wednesday, perhaps becoming slow moving across northern and eastern parts on Thursday. Sunshine and scattered showers will follow, some heavy and thundery, especially towards the southwest of the UK.
