Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
The rain will linger over northern and northeastern Scotland through most of the day but should become patchier with time. Elsewhere there will be a mix of sunshine and showers. Winds will ease everywhere into the afternoon, with the best of the sunshine in the southeast. It will feel cold across the north but slightly milder in the far south.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:
The theme of sunshine and showers will continue through the weekend across the country, with some heavy and wintry bursts at times. Winds will pick up and despite the sunshine it will continue to feel cold, particularly across the north.
