Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It'll be a chilly start to the day tomorrow, with some icy stretches across parts of the west. Further east, there'll be some mist and fog patches that will slowly lift through the morning. The rest of the day will be mostly dry, barring the odd shower, with most places seeing some sunny spells, .

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

A band of wet and windy weather will move east-wards across the UK on Monday, with all places seeing some rain by the end of the day. Tuesday will be drier for some, although there'll still be some showery rain in places, mainly in the east.
