Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A band of sleet and snow will work it's way southeast across the country during the day, followed by sunshine and blustery snow showers in the north and west. It will stay largely dry in the southeast at first, but sleet and snow will arrive there overnight, with some accumulations possible.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
Wednesday will be a largely dry day in the south and east, but rain and hill snow will arrive in the north and west. Wintry showers will push into the north on Thursday, but skies will be cloudy with rain and sleet across the south.
