

Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1945 on Thursday 09 Feb 2012

++ Valid for broadcast at 2159

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Snow affecting parts of the Midlands, Wales and southwest England will turn to rain during the morning. This rain will then clear westwards, only affecting the far west of Wales and southwest England by evening. The rest of England will become sunny but will stay cold. Scotland and Northern Ireland will be milder with outbreaks of rain.

Outlook for Saturday and Sunday:

Much of England and Wales will be dry, bright and very cold on Saturday. However, other parts of the UK will be cloudier cloudy with rain, possibly sleet in places. These cloudier conditions will spread to affect most parts on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2012. Published by the Met Office.