Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
Another rather cloudy and cool day is in prospect tomorrow, although with a little more in the way of bright or sunny spells in places, especially early in the day and during the evening. There is however, the risk of a light shower where cloud thickens.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:

Thursday should be mostly dry, with bright or sunny spells, although cloud will increase across Scotland and Northern Ireland through the evening. Outbreaks of rain and blustery winds will spread into northwestern parts of the UK overnight. Cloudy conditions will push gradually southeast through Friday, although rain should become lighter and patchier.
