Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
Parts of the southeast will start rather cloudy but it should brighten. Most areas then seeing sunny spells. Isolated showers developing, becoming widespread and heavy across Northern Ireland during the afternoon and other western areas later. A risk of outbreaks of thundery rain spreading from the south into southeast England by dusk. Strong to gale force winds in the far northwest will ease. Temperatures near normal.

Outlook for Monday and Tuesday:

Monday most areas should see some sunshine but showers will develop, becoming heavy, prolonged and thundery in places. Tuesday the east will start bright, but with rain in the west spreading to most areas.
